Ike Flashes "Stop Sign;" Many Backers Will Ignore Move

(By Associated Press)
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flashed a "stop" sign today at the Ike-for-President bandwagon, but many of his Democratic supporters ignored the signal.

The general called for the brakes in a statement which said: "I will not at this time identify myself with any political party and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contest."

Now president of Columbia university, the former chief of staff made his views known last night through the university's public relations director in a memorandum released to the press.

President Truman, en route back to Washington from a speaking trip in Missouri, was reported cheered by Eisenhower's action. His only direct comment, when awakened and told of the news in St. Louis, was that General Eisenhower "is an honorable man."

But Mrs. Truman's aides interpreted the statement as a death blow to the movement to sidetrack the President at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia.

Eisenhower said he was "profoundly touched by the renewed suggestion that I could satisfactorily fill high public office." But, he said, he had not changed his mind since telling Republicans last January that he was "not available."

That had stopped the Republicans. But some of the general's chief Democratic boosters held on grimly to day.

James Roosevelt, chairman of the California state Democratic central committee, was one of them. The son of the late President, who had joined with 17 others to issue a call for a pre-convention anti-Truman hurdle, said in Los Angeles: "General Eisenhower's statement clearly indicates that he will not serve as a partisan President but will answer a call to national duty."

I am tonight, therefore, reissuing the call for the caucus to be held in Philadelphia this coming Saturday night."

The Eisenhower-for-President headquarters in Philadelphia announced that it was remaining open for business in a statement which said "we still have faith in his Americanism and patriotism and are certain that he will bow to the will of the people."

In New Jersey, where 36 convention votes were pledged this week to the former commander of Allied forces in Europe, Archibald S. Alexander, Democratic candidate for senator, commented that he felt the Draft-Ike movement might not "necessarily be finally closed."

A similar view was expressed by Hugh B. Mitchell, former senator from Washington, who earlier yesterday had wired President Truman urging him to lead the Draft-Eisenhower movement. "What I said in that telegram still stands," Mitchell said in Seattle.

On the other hand, some Eisenhower strength began drifting away. Georgia's Democratic chairman, James S. Peters, said that state's 28 convention votes, previously instructed for Eisenhower, now will go to Senator Richard B. Russell, his favorite son.

Leon Henderson, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, which had supported the general, indicated that he considered the Columbia statement a flat refusal.

So did J. Oliver Emmerich of the southern states' rights group which also had backed Eisenhower. In any case, Emmerich said in McComb, Miss., the boom "showed up the weakness of Truman. People already are convinced that Truman is a dead duck."

But even before the general had called halt to the movement to place his name before the convention opening in Philadelphia Monday, Mr. Truman's friends had reported he was so confident of the nomination that he was making plans for his first campaign speech next month.

If those plans materialized, they said, the campaign kickoff would take place in Minneapolis. Subject: farm problems.

Mr. Truman, they added, doesn't plan to begin active campaigning until September, about the time Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the GOP nominee, is expected to get into action. The Minneapolis speech would be a one-shot affair.

The President was reported certain not only of victory in Philadelphia but victory in November.

When a group of senators visited him recently, one of them spoke of certain public works that might be carried out "if we win the election."

The President was quoted as objecting to the word "if," declaring that he is going to win.

A major speech by the President in August might stir Dewey into action too. The New York governor has retired to his Pawling farm for a rest and plans to see few visitors.

But before the campaign gets under way, he is expected to talk with such congressional leaders as Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, House Speaker Joseph Martin of Massachusetts and others.

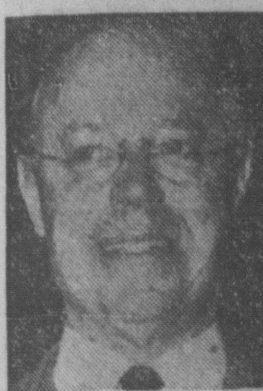

If he follows his 1944 pattern, Dewey might ask Republican governors to meet with him and the vice presidential candidate, Gov. Earl Warren of California, in the middle west in August to discuss campaign policy.

The Dewey-Warren ticket drew support from an unexpected source in Charles A. Edison, former Democratic governor of New Jersey. He said in West Orange that the government needs a housecleaning and the GOP nominee is the man to tackle the job. Edison is a one-time Republican.

Warren was due to get an official welcome on his arrival at Sacramento, California's capital city. A parade was scheduled in honor of the governor, who has been in the east since the GOP convention ended.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma voters went to the polls to name both Republican and Democratic candidates for senator, eight house seats and some state offices. The vote was expected to be light.

LIKELY APPOINTEES, IF DEWEY WINS

Taft... Supreme Court

Lockwood... No. 1 aide

Bell... Treasury Secretary Dulles... a cinch for Secretary of State.

NOW THAT THE GOP tumbler, if not the shouting, has died, reports are being circulated that internationalist John Foster Dulles of New York is a cinch to be appointed Secretary of State in event of a Dewey election. Elliott V. Bell, 45-year-old New York superintendent of banks and former financial writer, seems a good bet to be Treasury secretary, and for confidential secretary the nod goes to Paul E. Lockwood, 46, former assistant district attorney under Dewey and Dewey's secretary since 1943. Tale on Taft, who detonated stampede to Dewey at Philadelphia convention, is that he may be named to the U. S. Supreme Court. (International)

RENEW HOPE THAT YOUNGSTER LIVES

SOMERSET, Pa., July 6—A child's footprint, in a wooded area a mile from the Collier cabin, today led searchers forward with new hope that 23-month-old Donald Collier may still be alive.

The baby disappeared last Friday afternoon and 300 or more volunteers and officers have been searching for him ever since.

Searchers said the footprint, to the northeast of the cabin side, was a fresh one, having been made since Saturday night's heavy electrical storm.

State police said the footprint gave hope that Donald is still alive since no children live in the vicinity where it was found.

Donald is the son of an Allegheny county coal miner.

Baptists To Break Ground In August For New Church

Ground is expected to be broken about Aug. 1 or soon after for the new First Baptist church, to be erected on the site of the old Judge Boone property on E. State st., near the McKinley school.

The start of construction is anticipated soon after contracts are awarded July 20.

Plans and specifications for the building were distributed today, with the July 20 deadline set for submission of sealed bids. They will be opened that day.

The plans have been drawn by Arlene Rousseau, Youngstown architect.

With available funds totaling approximately $100,000, which includes $38,250 paid to the church by the American Legion for the old church property, the committee expects that only the sanctuary and part of the educational building can be constructed.

The total cost, due to present-day building conditions, can not be estimated, a spokesman for the church said.

N.B.O.P. Defends Accused Officers, Will Appeal Case

The National Brotherhood of Operative Potters has exonerated its president and secretary of charges that they received excessive salaries and will appeal the Columbia county court ruling against the officers.

The brotherhood's 54th annual convention in Atlantic City resolved Saturday to support President James M. Duffy of East Liverpool and Secretary-Treasurer Charles P. Jordan of Sebring and to relieve the officers of any personal expense in carrying the case to the highest court.

The resolution adopted Saturday reads:

"Whereas, we, the delegates of the 54th annual convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, chosen in a fair and open election to represent the 28,000 brothers and sisters of our organization, to act for them and to be held notwithstanding our first and inescapable duty to ourselves and our local is to secure, promote and protect the welfare and good name of our national organization;

"And Whereas, for many years our organization has slowly and carefully built for itself a reputation of the soundest financially, cleanest politically, the fairest and most democratic in every way of any organization within the labor movement;

"And Whereas, a little bad publicity, greatly exaggerated, can destroy a reputation and goodwill carefully built over the many years, and whereas, complete machinery within the organization to correct any abuse or mistake or mismanagement is established and available to any member;

"Unjustly Accused
"The constitution of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters reads as follows: 'The convention of the National Brotherhood shall have power and authority to make or repeal any laws deemed necessary, it may also tax the members for the maintenance of the organization.' And whereas, our national officers are bound to follow the will of the majority and enforce and abide by the constitution and bylaws and any changes made by the convention;

Glamorized Carole Landis Takes Own Life At Age 29

LOS ANGELES, July 6—The glamorized movie career of Actress Carole Landis came to an abrupt end yesterday with the finding of her body in the bathroom of her Pacific Palisades home. Police said she had taken her own life.

Clutched in her hand was a thin ribbon with the Lord's Prayer imprinted in gold lettering. On a nearby dresser was a final note addressed to her mother.

Capt. of Detectives Emmett Jones said: "This is definitely a suicide." The detective said there were four bottles of sleeping pills in Miss Landis' bathroom and dressing room. He said an empty bottle was found near the body.

Capt. Jones reported the beautiful blonde actress, 29, had died perhaps 12 hours before the body was found by Film Actor Rex Harrison, who said he had been unable to reach her by telephone regarding a business matter.

Thought Alike

The officers said a maid was in the home but had thought Miss Landis was still in her bedroom and did not notice the body huddled in a corner of the bathroom.

Miss Landis left a note, written on her own stationery, which read as follows:

"Dearest Mommie—
"I'm sorry, really sorry to put you through this but there is no way to avoid it—I love you darling, you have been the most wonderful Mom ever—and that applies to all our family. I love each and every one of them dear—everything goes to you—look in the files and there is a will which dearest everything—
"Goodbye, my angel—pray for me—your baby"

Harrison told police that Miss Landis had been in for a week, suffering a recurrence of an aneurysm which she incurred during a wartime entertainment tour in the South Pacific. The actor said he and Miss Landis had been discussing plans for a film they were to make in England.

Only last March 22 the actress filed suit to divorce her fourth husband, Theatrical Producer Horace Heidt, on grounds of cruelty. Heidt, who was at Cincinnati, Ohio, said he was shocked by the wife's act and had immediately for California.

The actress' mother, Mrs. Clara

Landis of Seminole Hot Springs, Calif., did not arrive at her daughter's home until about four hours after the discovery. She collapsed crying:

"Oh, my baby, I want to see my baby. Why didn't somebody call me?"

The mother was accompanied by Miss Landis' sister, Mrs. Walter L. Ross, of Long Beach, Calif. Other survivors are the father, Alfred L. Ridgely, of Richmond, Calif., and a brother, Lawrence B. Ridgely, San Bernardino, Calif.

The body was taken to a Santa Monica mortuary.

Miss Landis daughter of a railroad mechanic, was born Frances Ridgely at Fairchild, Wis. She moved to San Diego, Calif., a small child and was educated there and at San Bernardino.

She had been in films for 11 years and made her first real hit when she appeared in a leopard skin in the film $1,000,000 B. C. Thereafter she starred in many films.

Before her marriage to Schmidlapp she had been the wife of Major Thomas C. Wallace, Author Irving Wheeler and Yachtsman Willis Hunt Jr. All three marriages ended in divorce.

Four Injured In Mansfield Explosion

MANSFIELD, July 6—Four Mansfield police and firemen were recovering in a hospital today from shock, cuts and abrasions suffered when a bomb exploded as they tried to pole it into a tub of water.

The injured were Patrolmen William D. Mitchell, 28, and Joseph P. Butler, 24, and Firemen James Peck and Roy Reeder, both 24.

The bomb wrecked the rear of a restaurant where the police found it lying on a window ledge after they answered a call reporting an attempted burglary early yesterday.

The four were trying to pull the bomb into a water tub with a 12-foot pole when it cut loose.

Restaurant Owner Russell J. Matthei said he had no enemies.

The Mansfield News-Journal reported a bomb had been placed near the restaurant but police reported that the explosion could have been part of a burglary attempt.

Tuscarora Trail To Be Feature Of Scout Camp

Boy Scouts of the Columbiana county who attend Camp McKinley during the summer camp period of July 18th to Aug. 7th will have the opportunity to travel a portion of the old Tuscarora Indian trail, it was announced today by Gene Russell, Field executive.

The Tuscarora trail trip is a part of the activities program at camp this summer and is directly connected with the history and romance of the Indian tribes that once inhabited eastern Ohio.

The Boy Scout reservation at Camp McKinley is located on a portion of the old Tuscarora trail, and is closely related to some of the early history of Columbiana county and Lisbon.

Many people know that the old Sandy-Beaver canal runs through the Scout reservation, but few of them know that it follows the old Tuscarora Indian trail and the Scout reservation was an important point on that trail.

The local Indians were always afraid that some other tribe might try to surprise them and drive them off their land. So they had a lookout on top of the rock across from where the McKinley homestead now stands. From there they could watch traffic all up and down the trail.

They even had a place in the rocks where the lookout could stay out of sight or sleep if necessary. A great many Boy Scouts have climbed that rock to crawl into that old Indian cave that is still there today.

Award To Be Given

With all that exciting history so closely connected with Camp McKinley it is fitting to associate an exciting week of camping with some of the romance of the locality. So out of it came the Tuscarora Trail program and the Tuscarora Trail award. It is a series of related projects which will help a Troop in its out-door skills—hiking, hike preparations, firemaking, tent-pitching, health and safety, cooking—reaching a natural climax in a wilderness over-night camp.

In order to give the Scouts who attend camp a taste of adventure and at the same time provide opportunities for acquiring Scout skills, the Tuscarora trail trip was planned in conjunction with an overnight wilderness camp, thus Scouts and troops in camp who fulfill the preliminary requirements may hike out from camp along the old Indian trail to pre-selected sites, camp over-night and return the next day. Each troop that completes the requirements of the Tuscarora trail will receive a troop award and each Scout completing the requirements will receive a certificate.

Complete information regarding the summer camp program has been sent to all scoutmasters and commissioners.

The purpose of a summer camp is to provide opportunity for a Scout troop under its own leadership to acquire experience in out-door activities.

Coal Truck Hits Two Houses In Lisbon Today

LISBON, July 6—An empty coal truck driven by A. E. Solomon of B. D. 2, Salem, crashed into two houses on Jerome ave. at 9:30 a. m. today, damaging both.

Solomon told police the front wheel of the truck struck the front of a corner post of one house and then crashed into the side of another, owned by Mr. and Mrs. James W. Munson.

The frame dwelling was knocked six inches from its foundation.

Mrs. Munson and her child were in the building, but were unharmed.

The truck was damaged slightly.

Holiday Traffic Toll High: District Highways Jammed Over Weekend

One death and 11 injuries due to traffic accidents marred holiday weekend driving for district motorists, according to state highway patrol reports.

The usual heavy traffic flowed over the highways, particularly Monday afternoon and evening, resulting in seven accidents within the Salem patrol's area.

The dead: Stanley T. Wierspicki, 24, Newell, Va., who suffered a fractured skull and possible broken neck.

The injured: Frank Fabbro, 21, Newell, lacerated scalp and neck.

Eva Zeras, 26, Akron, contusions chest and facial lacerations, possible fractured knee cap.

Sam G. Chakalos, 30, Akron, fractured jaw.

Stanley J. Deros, 25, Chester, W. Va., internal injuries.

Elmer Lakatus, 21, Youngstown, bruises and abrasions of face and body.

Mary Billee, 16, Campbell, lacerated face and arms, bruised body.

Mrs. Rolland Main, 29, Windham, bruises of body and possible skull fracture, shock.

Rolland Main, 31, fractured ribs and collarbone, possible broken back.

Marguerite Benedict, 53, Cleveland, lacerated thumb and arm.

Kenneth Benedict, 24, lacerated forehead.

Ronald H. Sweely, 18, R. D. 1, Beckett, abrasions and lacerations of knee, elbow and both hands.

Dies In 3-Car Crash

Wierspicki was killed in a three-car collision on Route 30, nine miles north of East Liverpool at 11 p. m. Saturday. He was riding in a car driven by Deros.

A car driven by Chakalos attempted to pass another driven by Sam Tedesco, 45, of South Euclid, Ohio, and collided head-on with Deros's vehicle.

The injured, including Fabbro, Miss Zeras, Chakalos and Deros, were taken to the East Liverpool City hospital.

The crash occurred during the heavy Saturday rain storm, which made visibility poor.

Wierspicki was a former athlete at Newell High school, being a member of the football team which participated in the Pottery Bowl game against Leontina High in 1941.

He was an employee of the Globe Brick Co. and served in the Navy during World War II.

Funeral service will be held Wednesday morning.

Collide At Intersection

Cars driven by Latatus and Main collided at the intersection of Routes 224 and 624, near the entrance to the Tippecanoe Country club, at 4:30 p. m. Sunday.

Miss Billee, riding with Lakatus, and the Main couple were taken to the Youngstown South Side hospital.

Mrs. Benedict and her son, Kenny, were injured when their car, driven by Lloyd Benedict, 53, ran into a ditch and rolled over at 11:10 p. m.

Note Of Protest Given Ambassador By Marshall Today

WASHINGTON, July 6—The United States demanded directly to the Soviet government today that the Russian blockade of Berlin be lifted.

Secretary of State Marshall presented the American note of protest personally to Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin.

Immediately afterward, State Department Press Officer Lincoln White issued this statement:

"Ambassador Panyushkin called on the secretary at 11:30 o'clock this morning and was given a note regarding the situation in Berlin."

"The ambassador was informed that it is not the intention of the government to make the contents of the note public until the Soviet government has had a reasonable period of time to study the note and make its reply."

The United States acted in concert with Britain and France in protesting strongly the Soviet blockade of the German capital.

White officially gave no intimation of the line which Marshall took.

Believe Message Obvious

Other diplomatic informants said there appeared no doubt that he demanded the immediate lifting of the Berlin blockade, and protested Russia's recent policies in the German capital. They said he argued that the Soviet union must directly accept responsibility for any lack of supplies among the millions of Germans living in Berlin.

White did not define what was meant by a "reasonable period of time" in which the Soviet government could study the American note but presumably it meant several days at least.

The contents of the notes from the three western powers are not expected to be disclosed for several days. Notes similar to that of the U. S. were understood to have been handed to Soviet ambassadors in London and Paris.

Panyushkin said Marshall had not expressed to him directly any views on Berlin. He did not say what they talked about during the time he was in the secretary's office.

Panyushkin told reporters as he left the department that he had received a note from Marshall but didn't know what was in it. He was in Marshall's office for 14 minutes.

American sources had said Marshall would protest Soviet policies in Berlin and present a demand for lifting the Russian blockade in the German capital.

Marshall was reported acting jointly with Britain and France in protesting the blockade and making a direct approach to Moscow to insist on its removal.

At the same time, Ambassadors of five Western European powers and Canada were called into conference with Undersecretary of State Lovett. These talks are the first of what may prove to be a historic series of meetings on American military support for the Western European bloc.

Marshall's plan to see Panyushkin coincided with dispatches from London saying that the British and French in parallel notes also are demanding the Soviet blockade on the German capital be lifted.

The three western powers have decided to announce the move when their protest notes are delivered but not to disclose the contents of those notes at least for several days.

A Problem In Cake-Eating

As the summer runs on, with its delightful distractions of outdoor recreation, tight races in the baseball leagues and election year politics gathering momentum for a whirlwind finish in the fall, one of the hardest problems in national history is begging for solution.

It can be described as a problem in cake-eating—how can Americans continue to enjoy the easy money prosperity caused by World War II while consuming that prosperity in preparations for a possible World War III?

The decision to rearm the nation already has been made, but without much thought and certainly without general realization of the consequences. But the effects of the decision won't be averted by failure to see them coming.

The fact is that machinery and manpower now making consumer goods will be called on to produce war goods under the rearmament program. There will be acute shortages of materials and labor. Essentials like steel, aluminum, petroleum and electronic supplies will have to be channeled into armament production at the expense of production for civilian use. The new draft law will cause fierce competition for manpower.

In 1940 when rearmament began to take up the slack of unemployment and prices after the depression, the country had a cushion against the impact of a war boom. It was seeking inflation—had been trying to induce it for 10 years. There was a fair possibility it could eat its cake then have it too, that it could have the stimulation of war production without the misery and chaos of war itself. Development of defense was going to be an orderly process, undertaken at leisure, the whole thing rationalized and balanced by the national defense commission, first of many commissions and boards that ultimately came to grief over the task of gearing war production into the domestic economy. That was the dream that turned into the nightmare of postwar inflation.

The problem in cake-eating and cake-having has been made infinitely harder by what has happened in the last eight years. The only thing unchanged is the blissful failure to comprehend what is involved in preparation for possible war. Little was done in the presidential campaign of 1940 to wake up the country. Perhaps that may be different in 1948. It will be a miracle if the strain does not become, long before election day, the major issue of the 1948 national election.

With Strings Attached

One of the least probable meetings of minds between Dwight Eisenhower and the sometimes Democrats hoping he may be persuaded to pull their chestnuts out of the fire is on the matter of public policy. There are many strings attached to the Democratic nomination in 1948.

The southern Democrats anxious to get rid of Mr. Truman because he has offended them on civil rights would expect a substitute as a matter of course to take sides with them on that issue.

The left-of-center crowd thumping the tub for the Eisenhower candidacy would expect the general to see all issues cheek by jowl with them—planned economy, confiscatory taxation, paternalism and all the rest of it.

The city bosses would expect, as a matter of course, that if they gave the Democratic nomination to Gen. Eisenhower he would appoint their selections to all federal positions, in the best tradition of patronage.

Each faction of the quarrelsome coalition whose inability to get along with one another is the source of Mr. Truman's political woes would want his successor to go down the line for its pet cause. It goes without saying that the successor, whoever he might be, soon would be as unpopular with the factions as Mr. Truman himself has become. He is only the result, not the cause, of the inability of the shattered elements of the new deal coalition to get along with one another in the absence of Franklin D. Roosevelt's ability to pull them through to victory in four presidential elections.

The ERP Begins

The European Recovery Program is formally under way, with the President's signature on the bill and bilateral agreements completed between Washington and 15 of the 16 participating countries. Britain will be the 16th country as soon as parliament ratifies the agreement.

In this connection, the Bank of International Settlements has released figures showing European recovery has been "fully as rapid" as after World War I. But, the bank notes, this recovery wouldn't have been possible without the $17,000,000,000 furnished by the United States in the form of loans and grants between July, 1945, and the end of 1947. "There could be no greater misconception," says the report, "than to imagine that the aid so far furnished has been of no avail or somehow wasted"; and it adds that Europe needs further aid to attain complete recovery.

ERP was put in effect only after American disagreement, not so much over aid but rather how much aid. European recovery indices will be carefully watched, for those disagreements weren't finally settled. The subject is likely to rate high on the agenda of the 81st congress.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

UNDER the very potent stimuli of a Martian impulse, it is probable that definite advance may be made in tackling deep-laid plots and illicit schemes or unfavorable entanglements. Bringing such treacheries of snares out into the open, with aggressive action, strenuous efforts and powerful methods should result in some very concrete accomplishment. Well-planned objectives, vigorously prosecuted, with energy, firmness and forthright blows might be sensationally successful even though there might be need for change of plans or tactics.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may prepare for a year of concentrated action, with a marshalling of the forces and faculties in a plan of action aimed at shattering some sinister campaign of trickery, intrigue or entangling alliances, of subtle and undercover design and intent. An aggressive and strenuous assault upon this with force, initiative and straightforward blows, may bring about surprising denouements. Fresh tactics may attract new assets or resources with telling force and happy reactions or private relations as well. Promotion is in sight.

A child born on this day will have energy, initiative, special skills and talents for an active and aggressive career, with quick advancement or accomplishment.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By WALTER KIERNAN

The consensus of Fourth of July oratory is that the country must be saved for posterity . . . and each orator knows just which party it must be saved by.

But this fourth marked another year of independence of Britain . . . except in financial affairs.

London sent its annual cablegram to Washington marking the day . . . "congratulations on your independence from us, wish we could be independent of you."

But in an election year it's difficult to tell what the Fourth of July commemorates . . . I heard one orator tell how the Democrats took Bunker Hill from the Republicans.

Three blocks away a Republican was citing Benedict Arnold as an example of a man who left the right party for the wrong one.

But this was just the warmup for Labor day.

This is the time of year when we all have the itch to go to the beach—and keep on having it after we get there.

A writer says women usually talk about who, why and when. And also wear!

Smart people always get silverware to match, says a writer. By always going to the same restaurant?

Types Of Low Blood Pressure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
NOWADAYS, when there is so much interest in off-balance blood pressure, it would be a good thing if more people could realize that blood-pressure, whether high or low, is not a constant affair.

All kinds of things affect it even in the normal person and it varies from age to age, race to race, and even from season to season.

It is not possible to set an exact figure, and say blood pressures, either seasonally above or below it, are out of kilter. Instead of being one figure, normal rates fall in a certain range.

However, blood pressure is usually considered to be low when it falls below 100. This type of reaction can be expected when there are disturbances in the heart and blood vessels but it often occurs when these are both normal.

Indeed, where low blood pressure is concerned, it is often difficult to determine just what is causing it.

Two Groups
Doctors usually divide the low blood pressure into two groups, one called secondary low blood pressure and the other primary.

The secondary low blood pressure may be due to failure of the circulation. It may follow a severe injury or bleeding.

It may develop in severe attacks of pneumonia and typhoid fever. Diseases which last a long time no cause for great concern. Sometimes the low blood pressure is just a part of a person's natural physical and mental makeup.

Another type of low blood pressure is called orthostatic hypotension. In this condition, the blood pressure is normal when the patient lies down, but drops when he abruptly stands up.

This may be accompanied by a short period of dizziness and, in some cases, even by fainting.

ISRAEL DECIDES TO REJECT PEACE

CAIRO, July 6—A delayed Tel Aviv dispatch said the Israeli government voted last night "complete rejection" of the main parts of the United Nations Palestine peace proposal.

The account quoted an official government statement as saying the proposals were turned down with 27 negative votes and four abstentions after a three and a half hour session.

The Israeli decision will be handed today to Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. Palestine mediator, who is now in Tel Aviv, the dispatch said. In Cairo an Egyptian cabinet source said there is little doubt the Arabs will resume fighting in Palestine when the four-week truce ends Friday, despite U. N. appeals for an extension.

The final decision of the Arab league on the truce extension is expected to be taken up by the league's political committee today.

Shoes Unsanitary, Foot Expert Advises

OKLAHOMA CITY — "The shoe is the most unsanitary article of body covering in existence," according to Dr. Felton O. Gamble, foot expert.

"There is heat, darkness and moisture—the same conditions that produce mold on cheese or bread," Gamble told a meeting of the Southwestern Chiropody Congress here.

That is why so many persons have athlete's foot, he said. "A fastidious woman who never will wear other clothing more than a day will wear her shoes six months and keep them stored in a dark closet when she's not wearing them," the doctor chided.

"Men are worse because their shoes are almost without ventilation," he added.

To guard against fungus infection, a person should change shoes at least twice a day and expose the unused pair to sunlight, Gamble advised.

Says Plastics Have Their Limitations

PITTSBURGH — Dr. G. F. D. Alelio, assistant director of research for Koppers Co. Inc., would like to puncture the plastic dream bubble most people have blown from their imagination.

Dr. Alelio said that although output has grown six-fold in the past few years, the life of America never will be completely dependent on plastics.

He said steel, wood, glass and other "basic" materials would continue to "hold their own."

Dr. Alelio said plastics-making is not easy and that extensive research and experimentation was necessary to make new kinds of plastics.

"Plastics aren't made, as many people believe, by throwing together handfuls of air, water and seaweed," Dr. Alelio commented.

Grave of Famous Magician Is Found

PHOENIX, Ariz.—A shrine is planned here to mark the grave of Paul Valadon, "father of modern magic," and one of the greatest vaudeville performers of his day. Valadon's exit from the show world at the peak of his career 35 years ago was a mystery as puzzling as his theatrical stunts. A few days ago, his unmarked grave was discovered here by the Magicians Guild of the United States in a storybook climax.

According to Julian J. Proskauer, New York, past president of the guild, "Valadon was the Houdini of his day—a great sleight-of-hand man."

His grave was located by a study of yellowed vital statistics.

The story of his tragic end then was supplied by his son, Paul Valadon, now a Phoenix city employee.

Young Valadon said his father was a headliner on the Orpheum circuit for many years after he came to this country from England. Thurston and Keller, also great magicians of their day, were his partners at one time. But his greatest fame came from the spectacular illusions he invented and staged with the help of eight assistants.

"The famed illusionist's wife died in 1908. Not long afterward he slipped away from the glare of the spotlight."

Miserably ill with tuberculosis, he came to Phoenix with his son but was unable to shake off the disease. He died in 1913 at the age of 46 without fanfare in a young, bustling town already accustomed to victims of the malady.

When Is a Ship a Boat?

CLEVELAND—A boat is a small water craft that can be hoisted aboard a ship, according to a definition long accepted by seafaring men.

However, many sailors on the Great Lakes prefer to call their vessel a boat, and in so doing incur the wrath of those who still "go down to the sea in ships."

Captains of lake vessels were mailed post-card questionnaires and of the 203 replies received, 169 favored "ship," 11 said "boat" and three replied "steamer."

Although many skippers picked "ships" on the questionnaire, they refer to their vessels as boats. It would seem to boil down that it's "ship" when you are formal, but on the lakes more often than not it's "boat" when informal.

"Ghost" Railroad Pays Out Dividends

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—The Rochester & Genesee Valley road is the only line in the nation entirely debt free. But, then the railroad isn't running either.

However, for a railroad which doesn't run, the R. & G. V. doesn't do badly for its stockholders. It pays them a total annual dividend of four per cent on $555,200. And that dividend is guaranteed every year until 2051.

It happened this way: In 1831 the railroad was organized by a group of Rochesterians to run from Rochester to Avon. It had a capital structure of $555,200 and a 200-year franchise.

In 1871, the Erie railroad wanted to buy the R. & G. V. The stockholders refused to sell, but they offered to lease the line to the Erie in return for a guaranteed annual return of six per cent of the capitalization.

The Erie agreed and a lease was signed running until 2051. Since then the Erie has had all the responsibility, and the R. & G. V. stockholders have just collected dividends.

Once, however, in the early 1940s, the stockholders agreed to make a concession to the Erie. They allowed the interest rate to be lowered to four per cent.

Opportunities to buy to advantage are found daily in The News classified advertising columns.

Shirley Izenour Is Bride Of Wayne Filler Saturday

Keeping the tradition of "something old," Miss Shirley Izenour carried a silk handkerchief which her grandmother carried at her wedding, when she exchanged marriage vows with Wayne A. Filler at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in Holy Trinity Lutheran church.

Miss Izenour is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Izenour, Mount St.

Mr. Filler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Filler of N. Ellsworth ave. The groom's father was general contractor for this church when it was built in 1930-31.

Rev. George D. Keister, pastor, officiated in the single ring ceremony as the bride's father gave her in marriage after escorting her to the altar.

Two bouquets of white gladioli and white larkspur were combined in the arrangements of palms and ferns, which decked the altar and chancel. White candles on the altar and at the chancel entrance lighted the lovely scene. White machine bows marked the family pews. Custom of open church was observed.

As the guests were being seated, Miss Ruth Hoch, cousin of the bride, played the love melodies, "Idyll," "Promises," "Call Me Thine Own," and "Bridal Song." She accompanied Miss Donna Lou Getz, who sang "Always," "I Love You Truly," and "Because," and while the couple knelt at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer," "I Love You Truly," with chimes, and the traditional wedding marches.

Princess Style Gown

The bride made a charming picture in a white satin princess style gown with a lace and net bertha neckline trimmed with a ruffle of lace and tiny seed pearls which are placed so that they look like orange blossoms. The gown has a tight bodice, tight pointed sleeves and a full skirt with a long train. Her finger-tip lace-trimmed veil was attached to a tiara of pearls formed into orange blossoms. She carried an attractive bouquet of white roses, showered with white satin ribbon and centered with a white orchid.

Miss Caresse Kr-pops was maid of honor in a distinctive gown created of orchid taffeta and net. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, tied with wide matching ribbon.

Miss Marjorie Kelly and Miss Janet Youtz were bridesmaids. They wore pink and green organza gowns, respectively, made alike with ruffled necklines, puffed sleeves, tight bodices and hoop skirts, draped in front with flowers. Both girls carried pink roses tied with wide pink ribbon.

Thomas Fido served as best man. Harry Heltzel of Columbiana, uncle of the bride, and Calvin Filler, brother of the groom, ushered.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Izenour, chose an attractive aqua and black print for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Filler was costumed in yellow print with harmonizing accessories. Both wore corsages of red roses.

Reception Is Held

Guests from Little Rock, Ark., Cleveland, Warren, Columbiana, Alliance, Salem and Washington Court House attended the reception in the church social room.

The buffet table was beautifully appointed. The tiered wedding cake topped with an ornament was garlanded with greenery and flanked with bouquets of white flowers and tall white tapers in crystal candleholders. Miss Jeannette Hoch, another cousin, and Miss Mildred Frankie, presided.

The bride graduated from Salem High school, Mr. Filler, who graduated from Goshen High school, is employed by the Zimmerman Auto Sales.

After an eastern honeymoon trip, the couple will reside on N. Ellsworth ave.

The bride traveled in a Kelly green suit with all-white accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Filler of N. Ellsworth ave. gave the rehearsal dinner Friday evening. Lunch was served.

Plan For Dinner

A coverdish dinner will be served at 6:30 when members of Peace society, Dames of Malta, meet Wednesday evening in G. A. R. hall.

Meet At Elks Home

The Elks auxiliary will hold a business session tonight at the home.

AUTOMATIC CLOTHES DRYER MAKES CLOTHES FLUFFY

The continuous tumbling or fluffing process that takes place while clothes are being dried in the new Westinghouse Automatic Clothes Dryer, offers an improvement over clothesline drying. To a large extent, the clothes dry wrinkle-free. Such pieces as bath towels, face towels, sheets and pillowcases gain a softness which is preferred by many housewives over the harder finish that results from ironing.

Identical in size and shape to the Laundromat, the Westinghouse Automatic Washer, the Clothes Dryer dries a load of clothes in approximately the same time that it takes the Laundromat to wash them. Thus, one load of clothes can be dried while a second load is being washed.

COLUMBIANA ROAD JOB WILL START

COLUMBIANA, July 6 — Latest word from the state highway department to Columbiana officials is that Route 7 will be closed today or Wednesday for work on the overpass at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing east of town, which will take about 18 months.

The closing was deferred until after the weekend holiday traffic. Route 7 will be closed at the Route 14 intersection on the north and its intersection with the Columbiana-New Waterford road on the south. While the official detour for south-bound traffic will be on Route 14 to Columbiana public square and thence to the Columbiana-New Waterford road, north-bound traffic traversing the same route, drivers familiar with the highways will probably in most instances leave Route 7 at North Lima and with much of the traffic on Route 46 follow the Columbiana-Middletown road to its intersection with Route 7 at Middletown, saving nearly four miles. North-bound traffic could effect a like saving by leaving Route 7 at Middletown.

In Columbiana, detoured traffic will traverse more than a mile of Main st.

Home From Conference

Rev. Edgar G. Diehm, supply pastor of the Church of the Brethren, is home from the 16th international conference at Colorado Springs, which he attended as a delegate.

Old-timers and all-stars from the senior and junior softball leagues will compete in games at Firestone park tonight at 6 o'clock, as a benefit for "Whity" Drotleif, who suffered a broken leg in a recent evening game. Donations from those unable to attend will be accepted by Jack Cramb, park athletic director, or Perry Kyser, park manager.

Club Has Swim Party
Gay Sisters 4-H club, accompanied by their advisors, Mrs. Edgar Rapp and Mrs. Leroy Antram, enjoyed a swimming party at the park pool Wednesday evening. The club will have its July meeting in the home economics room of the High school building next Wednesday afternoon.

The Columbiana Youngs have a busy schedule at the park during the holiday season, Sunday afternoon, they play the Lisbon Law Feeds, and Monday afternoon a double headed with the Girard K. of C. team. An exhibition game with Sharon Westinghouse is scheduled Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCarter left Friday for St. Louis, where they will make their home with her mother, who is in ill health.

Nazarene Evangelist Here
Thomas McCusker, Cleveland evangelist, will preach in the Church of the Nazarene at 10:45 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Sunday. The pastor is Rev. Charles G. Finney.

15th Polio Victim Listed

MILK MAID HAS "TAG" DAY

DAYTON—The tag which Audrey Bowman of Montgomery county is displaying here will soon be a familiar sight on milk cans throughout Ohio—as rural folks donate dairy products for the Ohio Food train. The letters CROP refer to the Christian Rural Overseas program, which is supported by Catholic and Protestant church groups, and which is sponsoring the train. Tags are now being distributed by churches, farm organizations, and service clubs. Placed on a can of milk or cream, this tag will give the processor the right to turn over the proceeds to the Ohio Food train committee, which is headed by Frank Farnsworth, state director of agriculture.

Pestered Cow Operates Fly Swatter Invention

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex.—Albert C. Blevins, gentleman farmer, got out his adding machine, figured out how much it costs for Mabel, his cow, to switch the flies off her back and then invented himself an invention.

As a result, Mabel practically is free from flies. She operates a mechanized cow swatter. Blevins' invention consists of a pad, saturated with an insecticide, which he glues on each flank of the cow. As she swishes her tail, it lands on the pad, picking up the insecticide. The next round of the tail puts the pest into a nose dive.

Cow Tail Secret Brought to Light

LURAY, Va.—After nearly a century, it has been learned why a distinguished Cavalier lawyer and once consul to Italy spent his spare time traveling up and down the Shenandoah valley buying cow tails. The diary of the Hon. John M. McPherson, state senator, was found when an old building was razed here.

In it were such notations as: "This day, May 3, 1947, I paid William Patton 18 cents for 24 cow tails at 3/4 of a cent each."

The notations only confirmed the reports that had been handed down for years—that the esteemed senator traveled the valley on horseback, transacting secretive deals with certain farmers. It was rumored that he bought cow tails.

An entry, faded and almost illegible, in 1848 said: "This day I sold to the sheriff of Shenandoah County—Jeb Sheetz—one of my cow tails for 80 cents."

In another place he made reference to profit made by a certain section of the code of Virginia, and the mystery came to light.

The section provided for sheriff to lash the bare backs of wife beaters and habitual rogues with a "well-tanned cow tail."

Lashing of prisoners in Virginia was prohibited several years ago.

Shoeshine Boys Oppose Charging $1 For Haircuts

TULSA, Okla.—Shoeshine boys grumble it will cost them, not the customers, if barbers here carry out plans to boost the price of haircuts from 75 cents to $1.

They contend most customers spend a dollar in the barber shop, anyway, and use the change from the haircut for a shine and tip. If customers have to spend a dollar for a haircut, they'll probably just skip the shoe treatment, shine boys fear.

TRIBE HANGS TO FIRST PLACE LEAD

Despite Failures Of Rapid
Robert Feller, Indians
Are Holding The Pace

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, July 6 — The league-leading Cleveland Indians still were swimming today despite Manager Lou Boudreau's statement that the Tribe would "sink or swim with Bob Feller."

The Indians sank in the second half of a doubleheader yesterday with Feller on the mound, but retained their one-game lead over the Philadelphia Athletics by gaining an even split with the Detroit Tigers before 59,042 stadium fans.

Boudreau summarily lifted Starter Sam Zoldak in the eighth frame of the nightcap, but Feller failed dimly in a relief appearance to give Detroit a 7-5 victory after Cleveland copped the opener, 6-3.

Feller who hurled his eighth win at St. Louis Saturday, retired one batter before being afflicted with his customary relief wildness. He walked two and Pat Mullins then cracked his only safety of the day—a three run game-winning homer into the right field stands. Feller was charged with his ninth loss of the season.

Bright feature of the holiday twin bill was the consistent hurling of Bob Lemon, who was unable to repeat his brilliant no-hitter against the Tigers in the opener, although he coasted through to his 12th victory against six losses for a major league high in triumphs.

Lemon aided his own cause with a timely single in the fourth inning of the opener as the Indians sewed up the game with five runs. Joe Gordon's 18th homer with one aboard and Dale Mitchell's three-run triple with the bases loaded sparked the inning rally.

Ken Keltner soared into the American league homer lead with his 18th round tripper in the opener and his 19th circuit swat in the night-cap. Walt Judnich slammed his first home run and Eddie Robinson cracked his 10th in the nightcap of the eighth-nomter twin bill.

Art Houtteman was clubbed for his 11th loss against two wins in the opener, while Fred Hutchinson gained credit for the nightcap victory as he received valuable relief aid from Hal Newhouser.

The Indians became the second major league team to top the million mark in home attendance this season with a total of 1,042,475 paid fans registered at the end of yesterday's doubleheader. The New York Yankees topped that figure last week.

Bob Munchief will aim for his sixth triumph against one loss tonight in the finale of a three-game series, with Paul (Dizzy) Trout hurling for Detroit.

Children Learn Health From Feeding White Rats

ITHACA, N. Y.—Children in the third grade of an Ithaca elementary school are learning they have something in common with white rats. The right food every day makes them all plump, pleasant and healthy.

The children are discovering through observation the effects of proper food on the rats, says Fern Jacobs, their teacher.

"Right now, the white rats are the best teachers the children have. I doubt if they ever forget what those rats have taught them about the value of drinking milk and eating a well-rounded diet," she said.

Philippine School Pioneers Dying Out

MANILA—Disease, murder and old age have killed all but a handful of the 600 Americans who volunteered to build the first public school house in the Philippines.

They were young men and women, most of them in their twenties, when they answered a U. S. Army appeal for teachers soon after the Spanish-American war. They sailed for Manila in the summer of 1901 aboard the transport Thomas, and they called themselves the Thomasites.

Carrying packs of textbooks and carpenter's tools, they fanned out into the fields and jungles of the Philippine archipelago. They built classrooms out of bamboo and thatch. Then they began the slow—and sometimes dangerous—job of recruiting pupils.

Twenty-seven died the first year. Nineteen were killed by disease, six by knives and clubs of savages, and two by accident.

Only 60 of the Thomasites still remained in the Philippines when Pearl Harbor was bombed. All 60 were interned in Japanese concentration camps where many of them died. Most of those who survived were broken in health, penniless and edging 70.

Salem Poloists Make Brilliant Showing Against Detroit; Twing Seeds, George Ryser Win Holiday Golf Tournament

Terrific Heat Fails To Limit Activities At Club; Hermann And Britt Post Good Scores

By DON E. BEATTIE

Temperatures were in the 90s over the holiday weekend, but several golfers at the Salem Golf club were well under that, Twing Seeds and George Ryser coming through with creditable scores to win the annual Fourth of July flag tournaments in classes A and B respectively.

Play was heavy all three weekend days, despite almost unbearable heat Saturday and Sunday. Monday, however, the heat let up a little and allowed the local linksmen a bit of relief.

Seeds capped the Class A event with an 81, which resulted in his flag being planted 30 inches from No. 19 hole.

Ryser, who has been improving steadily this year, put out a good 53, his best 18 ever, to plant his flag after a 100-yard drive on No. 20.

Second in the Class T event went to Al Juhn, who finished up four feet from No. 19 hole. O. A. Naragon and Art Lind tied for third and fourth, both planting 12 yards from the 19th hole.

Walt Deming, another Class A player, placed sixth 16 yards from No. 19. Wink Miller won seventh 25 yards from No. 19. Bob Hiltbrand was eighth 110 yards off No. 19 tee and Walt Hiltbrand and Dick Knobby Green tied for last by holing out on No. 18.

The balance of the Class B field included: R. O. Blair, 2nd, 10 yards from No. 19; Roy Yeager, third, 35 yards from No. 19; W. L. Ferguson, fourth, 115 yards from No. 19; Bob "Jefferson" Dixon, fifth, 225 yards from No. 19.

Frank Brian, Henry L. Reese and Lou Ospeck all tied for sixth by holing out on No. 18. Karl Ramsden won ninth 10 inches from No. 18 cup.

WEEKEND NOTES — Jim Britt, who has been taking an awful beating over an early season 78, continued his red-hot pace Saturday. Britt banged out a very fine 80 with a pair of 40s and in the process pulled an almost impossible duce on the 354-yard No. 5 hole. . . . Jim's second shot, with a No. 3 wood, travelled 154 yards to the green and rolled in beautifully.

Johnny Hermann, veteran caddy-master, had a pleasant round Sunday, carding seven pars plus a bogey on No. 8 by three-putting which he made up for with a birdie four on No. 3 hole. . . . It all totalled 35, even par for the course. . . . Frank Brian missed an eagle by inches on No. 3, came up with a birdie four on his first round. . . . His feat was just a shade under one completed by John Mulford.

Radiator Behind Your Towel Racks Good Idea

Paris hotels popularized a cozy idea for bathrooms in auxiliary radiators in walls behind towel racks. Even hardy souls who go in for cold showers in the morning appreciate a warm dry towel.

What is said to have been the greatest calamity in history was the Black Death, a pestilence which spread over Asia, Europe, and northern Africa in the 14th century, and took the lives of 67,000,000 people.

Paint Gives Unusual Decorative Effects

Unusual decorative effects which can be achieved with paint pictured here include two-color 'panels' and marbled borders on walls and door, and the 'inlaid' border on the linoleum rug. The girl, inset top, is stenciling a pattern on the walls with paint to simulate wallpaper.

Military Academy Exams Scheduled

Congressman Earl R. Lewis has just issued letters of authority to boys in the 18th Congressional district who requested permission to take the competitive civil service examination for nomination to West Point and Annapolis. This examination will be held at Steubenville, on July 12. In order to be admitted to the examination, a letter of authority must be obtained from the congressman. Congressman Lewis will nominate as principal for entrance to the academies the boys who receive the highest grades; and as first, second and third alternates, those who attain these positions on the list compiled on the basis of the competitive examination. Twenty-four boys have requested permission to take the examination.

Recessed Convactor Heating Units Aid Bathrooms

Probably more than any other room, the bathroom has been neglected in planning for convenience and full utility. In the opinion of leading home management specialists, families now planning homes, they suggest, should apply many of the labor and space-saving arrangements in bathrooms that have made for convenience in modern kitchens.

The chief trouble with most bathrooms, according to the specialists, is that they were built merely to hold the plumbing units without regard for storage or convenient working space. The space under the wash stand, for instance, is usually left vacant when it could hold a cupboard for soap and cleaning supplies as is the modern practice in kitchen sink treatment.

Heating Units

Heating units usually are of the old-fashioned cast-iron type, which protrude eight or ten inches into the room. Home management experts now recommend use of one of the new, space-saving units, such as the modern convactor radiator, which can be completely recessed in a wall. In addition to solving the floor area problem in the bathroom, the convactor provides the comfortable, gentle heat so necessary in this room where severe blasts of air, either hot or cold, can produce chills. They are also completely safe since their exterior surfaces are not sufficiently hot to cause burns. In addition to saving floor space, these new heating units are regarded as decorative assets. They can be painted easily to match the color of walls, floor tile or fixtures. Decorative decals may be applied to the convactor cabinet, if desired.

Where there is but one bathroom for the whole family, partitions or curtains can be installed around the different bathroom units to increase efficiency. Thus, one child may take a bath and another dress while father shaves, each in complete privacy—a big convenience during the family's morning traffic rush.

Presenting Keys To Happy Plans For Building New Home

Plan your house as nearly rectangular as possible. A plan that is a simple rectangle gives the most floor space with the least exterior wall and foundation work. Every jog or wing involves extra work joining corners and fitting roof valleys and ridges.

A two-story house is usually cheaper to build than the same size dwelling with all rooms on one floor. It takes less foundation, less waste space under roof, heats more efficiently.

Here are some popular dimensions: Basement height, cellar floor to surface of first floor, 8 to 9 feet; room height, first floor surface to second floor surface, 9 feet; upstairs, second floor, surface to attic floor surface, 8 1/2 feet.

A popular first floor window is 4 ft. 6 in. to 5 ft. 2 in. high. Its stool or ledge is 2 ft. 6 in. to 2 ft. 10 in. from floor. Top of the window is a minimum of 7 feet from floor. Double hung windows are usually 2 to 3 feet wide.

A popular second story window is 4 to 4 1/2 feet high. Its stool is 2 ft. 2 in. to 2 ft. 8 in. above floor. Its top is a minimum of 6 ft. 8 in. from floor.

Entrance doors can be 3 ft. wide and 6 ft. 8 in. to 7 ft. tall. Room doors usually are 2 ft. 6 in. to 2 ft. 8 in. wide.

"Easy" stairs have treads 10 inches wide and risers 7-1/4 in. high. If cramped for space you can use treads 9 1/4 inches wide and risers 7-3/4 inches high. Easy stairs are safest.

All stairs should have sturdy handrails.

Allow plenty of room for a flight of stairs. Keep stairs far enough from any door to permit it to open freely. Avoid cellar stairs that descend directly from a threshold or door step. A platform will prevent accidents. Keep headroom at least uniform at every point in a staircase. Avoid winding stairs with wedge shaped treads; they're dangerous.

If you can work a vestibule into your plan it will pay big dividends in comfort. An entrance door opening directly into a living room can be cold and drafty and means more housework.

Ample closet space goes far in keeping home life happy. The most common criticism of a house is lack of closet space. Clothes closets can be shallow—just deep enough for free hanging of clothing on hangers along a rod. People argue about this, but many architects contend you will throw money away if you build clothes closets much deeper than 24 to 27 inches. Double bedrooms should have two closets.

To economize on plumbing, plan your bathroom next to the kitchen or directly above it.

Don't have a bathroom that opens into two bedrooms. It is better to have only one bathroom door opening from a hall.

Don't change your plan after work begins. The place to make changes is in the preliminary drawings. After a contract is signed there is no chance for competitive bids on changes. You pay what the builder asks for such "extras."

Modernize Kitchen; Gain Added Space

Today's housewives have learned the advantages of a small, modern kitchen as compared with the large, old fashioned kind of another day.

In the latter the equipment usually is so spread out around the room that many tedious steps are required for preparation of a single meal. In the modern type, compactness saves steps—and compactness is a direct benefit of space-saving innovations in home equipment, such as built-in cabinets and completely recessed heating units.

Most owners of older homes, perhaps, prefer such a modernized kitchen, yet do not realize they can have one at comparatively little cost. By simply dividing the present large unit into two or more rooms, a home owner can have a modern kitchen, plus an extra room or two for other purposes.

One way to add floor space to the new kitchen is by replacing large old fashioned iron radiators with modern, compact units. The new convector radiators are an excellent example of recent advancements in heat distribution outlets. If recesses can be built, these highly efficient units can be installed in them. If the design of the house won't permit recessing, a convector may be installed flush against a wall, still adding considerable area. Paint the new unit to blend with the walls or curtains to further enhance the modern effect.

Don't Let Gadgets Stunt Your House

Don't worry about gadgets when building a home.

Gadgets are changed and improved constantly, so the smallest number built into a house, the better.

Since most of these accessories are powered by electricity, the important thing is to have adequate outlets.

All Houses Settle Some

All houses can be expected to settle slightly in the first year and develop a certain number of minor cracks in the plaster. For this reason, wallpapering usually is delayed for a year.

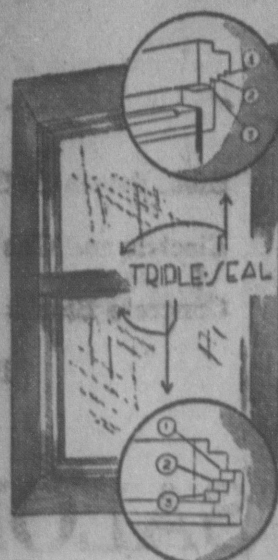

However, there is some movement in all houses. No building material is inert. The hot sun on one side of a house and the cold wind on the other cause movement through expansion and contraction.

Uncle Sam Says

Millions of Americans are redefining themselves to the support of our Government by word and action. Nearly 10 million of them are doing their share through the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds on the easy, automatic payroll savings plan. They realize that a dollar saved is a dollar fighting against inflation. And some day, these dollars saved, will be returned to them with interest, 84 for every 100 invested. These bonds are truly security bonds as they help to stop spiraling prices. You too can become an investor through the steady accumulation of Savings Bonds. If self-employed, an automatic bond buying plan is available to you through the Bond-a-Month plan at your bank.

Landlords Aided By Latest Rental Rules

WASHINGTON, July 6—Housing Expediter T. B. Woods today made it easier for small landlords (with not more than four rental dwelling units) to obtain "hardship adjustment" of rents.

Another change in regulations provides that no landlord need operate at a loss under rent control. Both changes become effective July 10.

"These changes will, I believe, remove many of the complaints against the adjustment provisions that some landlords have made in the past," Woods said in a statement.

Small landlords will be permitted to use a simplified form in applying for a hardship adjustment. The only records they need to show a decrease in net income are tax receipts, insurance premium notices and fuel and utility bills. Woods eliminated a requirement that they produce records or accounts to support a claim of increased operating costs. Some small landlords did not keep sufficient records for an adjustment, Woods said.

Any landlord who believes his property is being operated at a loss may petition the area rent office for an increase. He must show total income and total operating expenses for the current year.

Woods said this adjustment will "carry out the intent and spirit of the congressional directive that this office give due consideration to landlords who own controlled housing accommodations that are operated at a loss."

Household Hints

If your stone or brick fireplace is smoke-smudged and dirty from winter use, it can be cleaned by scrubbing with a strong soap and hot water. To remove stubborn stains, cover with a paste of powdered pumice and concentrated ammonia and let stand for two hours. Then scrub off the mixture with soap and water.

To save wear and tear on fine linen handkerchiefs, launder them by tying them in a loose cheese-cloth bag. Pin laundered hankies on a towel and hang towel on the clothesline.

A crooked, blunt or rough-edged needle in your sewing machine may be the culprit to blame for sewing trouble. Such a needle is apt to skip stitches, snag fabric and break threads. For perfect stitches, make sure your machine is equipped with a straight, sharp and smooth needle.

Begin Four-State Vets Housing Probe

NEW YORK, July 6—A four-state federal investigation of veterans' housing has started as a result of widespread complaints of "price-gouging" and of "short-cutting" of building specifications.

The investigation in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware was disclosed today by Acting Regional Housing Expediter John J. Pendergast.

Pendergast said the probe will deal specifically with veterans' houses built in 1946 and 1947 with priorities and under authorization of the Federal Housing Authority.

Patrick F. Davis, field agent in charge of the investigation branch of the expediter's office here, said complaints have been received that veterans were charged over the maximum sales prices and that homes were not built according to specifications contained in the builders' applications to the Federal Housing Authority.

Pendergast said, "The most frequent accusation against builders is 'short-cutting.' Sometimes the charge is outright omission of materials or equipment. Often it is the substitution of inferior materials."

Explaining the time limit of the inquiry, he said that since Jan. 1, 1948, there have been no restrictions on sales prices and specifications of newly-constructed homes.
